We are changing the concept; from now on, instead of presenting event design proposals based on collections, we will now have alternatives based on trends.

For this 2022-2023 campaign, the five trends we are presenting are the following:

- Tropical
- Boho Chic
- Rustic
- Organic
- Floral

Event Planning

Designing your event along with you is our priority. Although you can save the date and start with the preparations as soon as you decide, it is important to mention that detailed planning begins six months before the wedding.

From this moment on, our dedication and commitment will constantly make the event look its best. If any bride or groom wishes to receive personalized attention and start with the planning before these six months, we can do it at an additional cost of USD 500 per month in advance.
